Disbursements (Expenses)

Disbursements are costs related to your matter that are payable to third parties, such as visa fees payable to the Home Office and document translation fees. These are not included in the above estimates. A list of these and their fees can be found here and include VAT. We usually advise you to submit the application yourself and pay these disbursements directly.

By way of example, some other disbursement costs may include:

- Tuberculosis test – this relates to the cost of obtaining a TB test in the overseas country you reside in. This cost will vary by country to country, however a list of approved clinics in different countries can be found here;
- Priority and super priority service - If you want to expedite the decision on your visa application, you may be able to pay an additional fee to use the priority or super priority service. Further details of this can be found here.
- Biometrics appointment - Once your visa application is submitted online, you may have to attend an in person appointment to give your biometric details. Some appointments are free but applicants may wish to pay an additional fee to attend an appointment e.g. at a priority time or to get an earlier appointment etc. The availability and cost of this will depend on the country you are applying from.
- Document translation – This cost will vary depending on which translator is used, which country the document has been issued from and how urgent the translation is.

What's not included in the price:

The fees set out above do not include the following:

- Review and, as appropriate, amend the draft documentation;
- Collate and finalise the documentation and review the draft visa application form;

How long will my application take?

Depending on the complexity of your application and the level of support required, we will normally be able to provide the above services to allow you to submit your visa application within 2 weeks of you providing us with all of the draft documentation, providing nothing remains outstanding.

The Global Talent (Stage 1 – endorsement) application routinely takes longer than this due to the number of documents to review and volume of draft documents to prepare. We will normally be able to provide the above services to allow you to submit the endorsement application within 6 – 8 weeks of you instructing us.

We cannot guarantee how long the Home Office or Endorsing Body will take to process your application. Please read the current processing times for your visa application type here \(if applying from outside the UK\) and here \(if applying from within the UK\).

Please note the anticipated number of hours and fees are an estimate based on the facts above. All applications are likely to vary and of course, we can give you a more accurate estimate once we have more information about your specific case.
