Our licensing team advise and represent businesses and individuals in relation to licensing applications made under the Licensing Act 2003 throughout the country. Our fees for such matters vary depending on the complexities of the case as well as the volume of work we receive. We work with our clients to create a bespoke pricing package based on their needs and the likely frequency of work so please contact us to discuss this further.

Costs

We offer a range of fixed fees that are applicable for individual instructions, which includes:

Matter	What is included in the price	Fee (including VAT)

All of our fixed fees quoted above assume that the application is relatively straightforward and that you have provided all of the information needed to facilitate submission of the application in a timely manner.

If your application is objected to, or post-submission negotiations become protracted, we will charge our usual hourly rate. In this circumstance our fees on average will be £4,020 (£3,350 plus £670 VAT) - £6,720 (£5,600 plus £1,120 VAT)

The below shows our hourly rates:

Partner	£354 (£295 plus £59 VAT)
Paralegal	£168 (£140 plus £28 VAT)

What's not included in our fixed fee:

- Drawing up suitable plans. You will need to arrange plans yourself.
- Attending meetings with the Licensing Authority or Responsible Authorities.
- Dealing with or advising you in relation to representations received from either the responsible authorities or other interested parties.
- Attendance and representation at a licensing sub-committee hearing of the responsible authority. If representations are received and attendance and representation at a licensing sub-committee is required then we will provide a separate fee estimate for this work which will be charged at an hourly rate.

Disbursements

Disbursements are costs related to your matter that are payable to third parties, such as the application fee. If you provide us with the appropriate funds, we will pay the disbursements on your behalf to ensure a smoother process.

Disbursements	England and Wales	Scotland
Council's Fee for an application for a new premises licence	£100 - £635 (or £1,905 if multiplier is applied)	£136 - £1,360
Advertising in a local newspaper	On average £600 (£500 plus £100 VAT)	Not needed in Scotland
Council's Fee for an application for a full variation	As above	£130
Council's Fee for a Minor Variation	£89	£20
Council's Fee for a transfer	£23	£40
Council's Fee for a DPS Variation	£23	£31
Council's Fee for temporary event notices	£21	N/A
Council's Fee for an application for a Personal Licence	£37	£50

These fees vary depending on the individual premises, where it is located and the rateable value of the premises. The multiplier is applied to premises that are used exclusively or primarily for the supply of alcohol for consumption on the premises and have a rateable value above £87,001. We will give you an accurate figure for each item as soon as we are able to do so.

Site visits or meetings with others may incur travel time (charged at our hourly rate as detailed above) and incur disbursements. Travel costs will range depending on the distance travelled and travel by car is charged at HMRC approved rates. The requirement of overnight accommodation will depend on the location of a hearing and costs will vary depending on this.

How long will the application take?

Unopposed applications for a new premises licence or for a variation usually take 29 days for us to be notified if the application has been granted or not. This is on the basis of the application being relatively straightforward and you being able to provide all the necessary documents promptly.

Other types of applications are subject to their own time frames. We will provide you with an estimated time scale once the application has been submitted.

If your matter is more complex, for example, if there is substantial opposition from interested parties, or if there is a delay in receiving the documents we need, it may take longer. Applications may need to be resolved at a hearing which will add further time.

Who will deal with your case?

Work will be undertaken by our licensing specialists and their experience can be found here.

Our team of specialist licensing law solicitors have years of experience in dealing with applications under the Licensing Act.

We also employ a licensing assistant who does much of the day to day work on cases. Although they are not legally qualified, they have extensive experience, have received training within our firm and work under the direct supervision of the Head of Unit.

We have a proven track record in achieving successful outcomes for our clients.
